Randall County Is In Strong Financial Condition; Paving Bonds
Assumed by State

Randall county's court house will be freed of debt on March 20th. At its Monday session the Commissioners' Court sold the bonds which the county held in the sinking fund and will pay off the $39,000 in bonds against the court house. These bonds are held by the state school fund and will be delivered here on the 20th.

The county has owned $38,900 in various kinds of bonds for some time, including Canyon City bonds, Canyon school district, several common school districts of Randall county, Tulla and Shamrock bonds. All of these are being sold in order to take up the $39,000 against the court house.

While the bonds which are held by the sinking fund pay the county a little more interest than the court house bonds, it was deemed wise by the commissioners to make the sale while a premium could (Continued on last page)

Guleke Succeeded by San Antonio Man on Board of Education

Governor Allred announced Saturday the appointment of B. F. Youngblood of San Antonio to the State Board of Education to succeed J. O. Guleke of Amarillo. According to dispatches from Austin the opposition of Guleke to the policies of the national administration played a leading part in the Governor's failure to reappoint him on the board.

Mr. Guleke has been very active in school affairs the past ten years, having served as a member of the Board of Regents for Teachers Colleges before being appointed on the Board of Education.

The selection of the San Antonio man leaves the Panhandle without representation on the board.

Ranch Owners Will Meet Friday Night on Range Program

There will be a meeting of ranch operators Friday, March 12th, 7:30 p. m., at the County Agent's office for a discussion of the AAA range program for 1937. All owners of grass land and ranch operators who are interested in the provisions of the range program are invited to attend. Work sheets for the range land as well as for the farm land will be ready to sign in the very near future.

House Passes Bill For Summer School But Not Emergency

The House of Representatives passed the bill for summer schools on Thursday by a unanimous vote. W. T. was granted $19,700 in the bill.

The House rejected the emergency appropriation bill which was asked to carry on WPA projects, and the bill was sent back to the committee for the second time.

The Senate has not taken up either the summer school or the emergency bills, excepting the report from the committee which reduces the amounts below the amounts passed by the House.

The House committee is still considering the bills on graduate work in the various colleges.

Judge W. N. Stokes of Vernon Will Succeed Judge Martin

Governor Allred announced Friday the appointment of Judge W. N. Stokes of Vernon to the Court of Civil Appeals, Seventh District, to succeed Judge A. B. Martin. Judge Martin has accepted appointment to the Supreme Court commission effective April 1st. Judge and Mrs. Martin will not move to Austin until fall, after the Supreme Court takes the summer vacation.

Genuine regret was expressed in Canyon last week that Judge Martin is to leave the Panhandle. He was a member of the Board of Regents for Teachers Colleges, and has always taken great interest in W. T. He established a loan fund several years ago and takes an active interest in making loans to worthy boys and girls.

Mrs. Mildred Kyle has returned to Canyon after visiting at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Atkins of Ardmore, Okla.

Conference Officers

I. B. Carruth, President of the Northwest Texas Conference for Education. Mr. Carruth is superintendent of the Canyon Public Schools.

Half Inch Rain Covers All Sec- tions Panhandle

Farmers Report Wheat
Generally in Favorable Condition as Compared With Last Year

Rain amounting to half an inch fell in Canyon Friday night and Saturday morning. All sections of the Panhandle were covered by the rain, which is the first general rain in several months.

Rain so far during the fall and winter is less than the fall and winter a year ago. However, the moisture for January, February and March of 1937 exceeds that of 1936.

Many farmers have been asked as to the condition of the wheat now as compared with its condition of one year ago. The answer depends largely upon the section of the county in which the farmer lives.

More farmers report that their wheat is better now than it was a year ago than report a less favorable condition.

The spotted rains of the last year is being reflected by the condition of the wheat at this time. Although there has been con- (Continued on last page)

Shut Up Chickens and Keep Dogs at Home Is Requested

Complaints are being filed with city officials that dogs and chickens are doing much damage to shrubbery.

Many citizens are getting ready to plant gardens, and chickens are running at large over town, doing much damage to the cultivated ground.

Flowers will soon appear, and unless the dogs and chickens are kept at home a great amount of damage will be done.

City officials request that those owning chickens have them penned up at once.

Stray dogs in town should be reported to the city office so that they may be shot.

Designed to interest the laity as well as educators, the Educational Conference program Friday and Saturday promises to attract an unprecedented number of people not directly connected with education as well as teachers from over the entire section. More than 3,000 visitors are expected.

"The program is for everyone in the Panhandle who is interested in education," I. B. Carruth, president of the Conference said.

Reports received by officials last week indicate that several hundred members of Parent-Teacher organizations and county and district school trustees will be present.

The opening session will begin at 9 o'clock Friday morning, and teachers are being requested to register immediately upon arrival.

Registration fees for teachers who do not belong to the Texas State Teachers Association are 50 cents, and no fee is required of members of the organization, though they are to register and receive badges.

The complete Conference program is as follows:

W. T. Taylor, manager of the Palo Duro Park Company, has returned from Caddo Lake where his company has taken over the management of this state park. The company took over the concessions of Palo Duro last May.

A contract for the management of more state parks will likely be added to the holdings of the concession company.

Mr. Taylor states that all of the parks will be advertised and pushed by his company. He is well pleased with the attendance at the Palo Duro in spite of the unfavorable weather so far this year.

WPA Leaders Sore and Quit Demand Meredith be Ousted

Twenty WPA division engineers and field men resigned Monday at Amarillo, demanding that A. A. Meredith, district director, be fired.

The state director backed Meredith in the fight and men are being transferred from other district headquarters until local men may be trained.

Among those quitting were those engaged on Canyon jobs: R. N. Stewart, timekeeper at W. T.; J. P. Rhodes and Rudolph Douglas, engaged on the highway project. Meredith announced that the jobs would not be affected by the men quitting.

THE SUPREME COURT ISSUE

The News has frankly expressed the opinion that President Roosevelt is fully 90% correct in his fight to modernize the Supreme Court of the United States. We had not intended saying anything this week, but came across an article by W. D. Jamison, former congressman from Iowa, which sounds sensible and plain, and therefore reproduce the same as follows:

One of the great things about the home life in this splendid country of ours is that every boy (and girl, too), thinks his Mother is—or was—one of the most wonderful persons that ever lived. We all rejoice over these good and holy Mothers.

I had exactly this same kind of a Mother—devoted to her religion and her church, to her family and friends, to her country and the whole world, and to everything worthy. She's been gone to her great reward now for nearly five years, and one of my happiest memories is of the intimate, soul-searching chats we used to have over the breakfast table. Two things I always knew—she had read her Bible before every breakfast, and—she wanted to know the TRUTH about things.

If we were having such a breakfast chat this minute she might look me square in the eyes—as she always looked at people—and say: "Billy, (We are always just boys to these Mothers,) what is the TRUTH about the President's proposal regarding the Supreme Court? What is it all about? What is the HEART of it, in simple words?"

I would answer: "When the law is passed, Congress will be saying to the Justices, 'Please retire on full pay when you are 70 years old, or shortly after.' If they don't retire, then the President shall appoint another younger Justice for each one who is 70 or more, up to 6. This is the very heart of the whole thing."

Then she would likely ask: "What will be the effect of this?"

I would answer about this way: "The Court is now ultra-conservative. The President will recommend to the Senate for confirmation the names of good lawyers of high character, but who are liberal in their school of thought. In this way he will LIBERALIZE the Court, so that in close decisions on these new laws looking toward giving a better chance to the under-privileged, where the five ultra-conservative members of the present Court would vote five votes AGAINST these laws, and where the four liberal members would vote four votes FOR such laws, then the majority of the changed Court probably will vote for them, and in this way these laws will be declared constitutional."

Then she might ask: "What will be the effect on the people?" "Congress can then pass laws which will do away with cruel child labor, do away with slavish hours and wages for the workers, give minimum wages to the women in industry, give the farmers good prices, give the coal industry and the mine workers a better chance to live and prosper, and pass laws to control monopolies, and this LIBERALIZED Court will not throw these laws in the waste basket."

Then she might ask: "Will this endanger the Constitution?"

"No. Exactly the opposite—something of this sort will be the very best safeguard the Constitution can have. All such liberalized decisions will be wholly within the Constitution. Think what might happen if we don't do something of this sort. Scores of millions of our people are on relief of one sort or another, in spite of all of our 'primed prosperity,' 8 or 9 millions who have a right to a chance to earn for themselves and their families are out of work, probably half of our people are not getting an adequate diet today, strikes are bobbing up everywhere and some of them, like the threatened coal and steel strikes, are serious, the great run of farmers are not getting their costs of production, the over-privileged are as insolent as ever, there is a terrible lack of confidence in our whole government set-up, Senate and other investigations are showing terrible conditions of lobbying and spying and crookedness and unfairness in finance and industry, the forces of wickedness in the world are pushing for war and seem to be in the way of getting it. No, Mother, instead of endangering our Constitution, something of this sort must be done to insure its safety."

And this imagined conversation, my friends, with my revered Mother, tells you how I feel about this Supreme Court proposal.

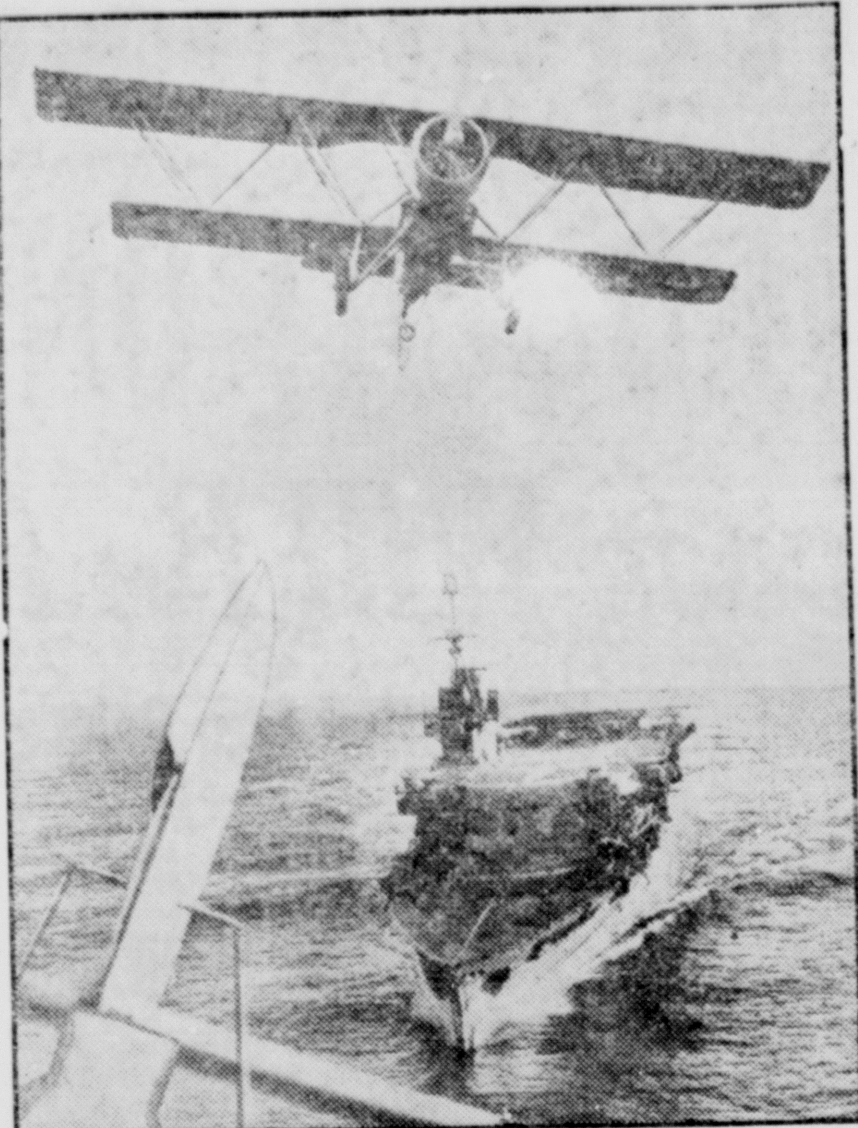

I expect it to pass in about the form the President proposed it, and then I expect the country to be better off under it.

Editor Tom Waggoner of the Claude News should keep his facts straight when he jumps at conclusions regarding public officials. In a recent issue of his paper he charges that Senator Clint Small made a trip to Washington to oppose the federal government sending money to Austin for old age assistance. As a matter of record, Senator Small was chosen by Attorney General Wm. McCraw to argue before the Supreme Court the natural gas laws which were passed by the legislature for the purpose of saving from destruction the gas fields of the Panhandle. Senator Small, General McCraw and Colonel Ernest Thompson made two trips to Washington to fight for these conservation measures. So far as the federal government's payments to Texas on old age assistance, Senator Small probably would have as much influence in Washington as the mythical man in the moon. The law now in force, was passed by a large majority of the legislature, and this law was advocated and signed by Governor Allred. Payment of assistance is simply a problem of mathematics in the hands of a commission. This commission passes upon the cases, and after approval certifies to Washington the number approved and the amount of money which the commission finds necessary; Washington in turn remits to the commission the money for distribution. Incidentally Texas has the most liberal old age assistance of any state in the union, according to Washington, and receives more money in proportion than any other state. Those who still think that Texas should pay every person 65 years of age a pension of $30 per month simply refuse to read the amendment as passed by the people; and refuse to read the limitations that Washington has placed upon the payment of old age assistance.

Soaring Into Action for Mimic War

Symbolic of the war-mindedness that is Europe's these days is the striking picture above, showing a British war plane soaring into action from the deck of the aircraft carrier Courageous. In the foreground is the rudder of another fleet plane, also taking part in the maneuvers, held in the Mediterranean.

The sit-down strike started in France. We heard the following story the other day as told by a Frenchman: He let the contract with a plumbing firm to make certain changes in his home. The workman started to work, tearing out all the old plumbing. At the appointed hour the national strike was called. The plumbers sat down in the home. The owner called the master plumber, but his hands were tied; it was a strike and the men refused to work. When meal time came, the plumbers demanded food; the owner naturally objected to feeding men who were loafing in his home. The plumbers seized all of the food in the home. When night came the family was told to vacate its sleeping quarters, as the plumbers would occupy the beds. This continued so long as the strike continued. The strikers naturally won, as the nation could not withstand such conditions in all lines of trade. The sit-down strike is the most effective that has yet been devised.

Many people have wondered why the recent General Motors strike was settled without serious destruction of life and property. David Lawrence, arch enemy of President Roosevelt, but always willing to hand the President bouquets when the occasion arises, praises the diplomatic manner in which the strike was handled by the President. There has never been a President more friendly to labor than Roosevelt. As a result he has the confidence of the leaders. Behind the scene, the President was able to manipulate the demands of labor to meet a position that capital would be able to meet. While the unions brag about the great victory, Lawrence points out that the victory was not nearly so large as boasted, but that the settlement was fair to both labor and capital.

Arthur Stars In Buff-Aggie Fray Thursday, Friday

Leads With Individual
High Score In Both Games

Ben Arthur, towering Buffalo forward, who has been kept on the bench most of the season, broke in for his share of the glory when the Buffaloes bowled over the Panhandle Aggies 39-25 and 43-31 at Goodwell, Okla., Thursday and Friday.

Arthur paced both night's games with 12 and 13 points respectively. Playing true to form, the Baggettmen jumped into an 18-point lead in the first tilt. The Aggies threatened in the last half, but the Buffs retaliated with their scoring punch.

In the Friday night encounter, the Aggies, led by Captain Radney, captured a two-point lead at the half. In the final stanza, the Buffs utilized their superior height to a good advantage to forge ahead and make a clean sweep of the series. Walling, Buff guard, stood out in the last-period rally. Butler followed Arthur in the scoring division with 11 points.

Squad

Another home stand met with disaster when the Buffs took the small end of a 31-29 count against the Southwestern (Okla.) Bulldogs in Burton Gymnasium Monday.

For the first time this year, the Buffs played without the service of their captain, Lawrence Clark, who has accepted a teaching position. Despite this setback, the Buffs put on a commendable performance against the Sooner invaders. The game marks the last stand of the locals in Burton Gymnasium this year.

Rankin Williams, the Dogs' mentor, has produced what he claims to be the strongest team that he has had since going there almost ten years ago. His fire-department style of ball has carried his team to the runner-up position in the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference. The Bulldog center, Mikkel, utilized his height to fair advantage to garner the individual scoring prize for the Oklahoma circuit. Mikkel of the Bulldogs paced the scoring with 11 markers. He was followed by Butler who collected nine.

The Buffaloes left yesterday for Golden, Colo., where they collide with the Colorado School of Mines. Following this two-game series, the Baggettmen travel on to Denver to participate in the National A. U. tourney, March 15-20.

Pneumatic Water Agitation in McCormick-Deering Milk Coolers The New Way to Cool Milk Fast

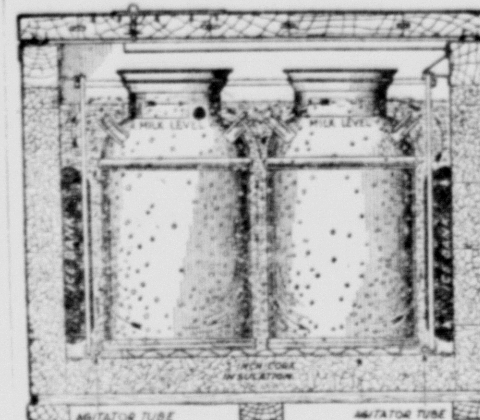

WARM DAYS create a serious problem in the handling of milk—but not for the owners of McCormick-Deering Milk Coolers. They put the milk cans in the cooler and in one hour or less the milk is cooled to 50 degrees or lower and kept at that temperature automatically, regardless of weather temperature.

The pneumatic water agitator, exclusive with McCormick-Deering, brings about this fast cooling. A small quantity of water poured into the top filler hole starts the agitator pumping air to the pipes at the bottom of the box. Agitation continues for approximately an hour and a quarter, after which the water action automatically stops.

The McCormick-Deering Milk Cooler—manufactured, assembled, and tested complete, at the factory.

Cooler is simple, compact, and easy and economical to operate. It is built complete (both box and compressor unit) by International Harvester—and backed by the famous Harvester service. Ask us for complete information.

This cross section of the McCormick-Deering Milk Cooler shows how the constantly rising bubbles force the water to wash over the ice bank and to circulate all around the cans. An automatic temperature control maintains a 3 1/2-inch ice bank and uniform water temperature. The box of the McCormick-Deering is lined inside and out with heavy galvanized rust-resisting steel and insulated with 3 inches of the best-quality cork. Copper refrigerating coils mounted on galvanized steel encircle the inside of the box.

Approach of the May Coronation Finds Britain Geared for Its Greatest Show

LONDON.—Now thoroughly re-adjusted to the new rulership which so suddenly succeeded that of Edward VIII in Buckingham Palace, England is again absorbed these days in mammoth preparations for the empire's biggest show.

The confusion created by Edward's abdication pretty well dissipated, but not without a huge loss to British merchants, the country looks ahead with intense interest to the date of May 12, when the new king and the new queen, George and Elizabeth, will formally ascend the throne.

Difficulties may arise, but tradition demands that the show go on. And so Great Britain talks and works and lives for its next coronation. The last one was in 1911.

THE empire makes the most of these occasions, and the current coronation is no exception. From Calgary to Cardiff preparations are in full swing. Flags, bunting, and decorations must be made. Luxurious gowns and robes—at $100 a yard—must be had. Transportation, hotel, and communication facilities must be ready.

There's talk of 2,000,000 visitors to the capital; estimates of a $100,000,000 coronation trade. This might have run higher, of course, if Edward were the king to be crowned. Thousands of harried industrialists are still wondering what to do with the millions of medals, plaques, crockery mugs, spoons, and what not, bearing Edward's picture, which they had already made for the coronation. But in any event, the show should still be the greatest in the empire's history.

That matter of coronation gowns and robes, for instance. For the coronation season, including the event itself and countless allied ceremonies and social functions, it is estimated that at least $60,000,000 may be spent. Peeresses, for example, each will spend anywhere from $2000 to $5000 for robing.

Then there's the hotel and grandstand business. Hotels fortunately situated along the route of the coronation procession are taking reservations for rooms at prices ranging up to $650 a day. The better grandstand seats along the procession route have long since been hawked at anywhere from $100 to $250. Transportation companies, alone, expect to do a $50,000,000 business, bringing visitors and official representatives from all parts of the world.

MEANWHILE, the vastly elaborate ritual of the coronation itself is shaping up and rehearsals soon will begin. An all-day affair, replete with ancient precedent and ceremony, the coronation cannot be run off smoothly without the most careful training; drilling in which the king and queen themselves must take part during the last few days preceding the dramatic event.

And, for the first time in British history, the entire coronation ceremony will be broadcast, and the entire world will participate in this crowning of the king and queen. Conceivably, this might be the biggest show on earth.

Milk boosts community income

In thousands of communities milk is the biggest single source of income for farmers. Trade operates in these communities largely on milk money. The total milk money going to dairy farmers daily is $3,500,000.

Milk needs many outlets. Selling milk in bottles provides a market for only 15 of the milk produced. Ice cream, butter, cheese, dry and evaporated milk and many by-products must be manufactured and sold daily so that milk money may flow back to the dairy communities week after week without interruption.

Since Gail Borden's invention of condensing milk in a vacuum 80 years ago, Borden has pioneered in research work that has meant new uses for milk and new markets for milk producers. Research and efficient merchandising of milk in all its forms are first-hand reasons why America produces and consumes more milk than any other nation.

Howdy, kids!

Say, you that missed that box supper Friday night really missed the time of your life. I never saw so much food and fun in a mighty long time. I shore thought for a while that Bulldog wasn't going to get Mary Catherine's box. During the program, Sweetie sang about what she would do if she had "Plenty of Money and You," Clarabelle Newberry sang "Me and the Moon," and there was a whole lot of other swell numbers. It was a good program from the beginning to the end, although them Carrollettes got tickled when they were singing about "Sweet Sue."

"I am just a wonderin' who's going to win these intramurals. I just won't bet on any of them 'cause they are all so good. I notice those seniors act like that Carey gang, running' around shaking hands all the time."

You better start savin' your pennies up, everybody. The Junior Play, "The Poor Married Man," is a comin' up March 19, you know. I shore bet it's a good play. I know how to sympathize with all these poor married men.

Tother day I was a standin' out in front of the school building with a bunch of students, and someone said, "Here comes Charlie." Course I didn't want to show my ignorance, so I quietly looked around. I kept turning around looking for Charlie till I was dizzy. I didn't see no one, but they kept talking about Charlie; so I eased up to Mary Collins and asked her who Charlie was. Guess who it is? I shore was fooled. It's the Senior Play! Seem' that I didn't know anything about it, the Senior kids told me; and boy, I'll bet it's a hum-dinger. I wish I was a Senior, 'cause I shore would like to try out for Charlie's part.

I wish them Seniors would hurry up and have Kid Day, 'cause I think that's one of the gayest days of the school year. Mariah and I always take the whole day off on Kid Day to watch the Seniors run around in short dresses and knee pants, carrying their dolls, playing marbles and jacks, and eatin' suckers, etc. They always cut up all day just like little kids.

Wal, so long till the bed springs bites the pillow, mistaking it for a bolony sandwich.

Intramurals Get Under Way
With Hard Fought BattlesTeachers Work, But Students Play; Boy!

Boy, oh boy! and a Hotcha! While the teachers work, the students will enjoy themselves. Ain't that grand?

The teachers will attend the Teachers Conference at W. T. Friday, and the students decided not to go to school because there will be no teachers. (That would be humorous if the students went to school and the teachers played hooky.)

Holidays are usually for both the students and the teachers to have some fun, but this time the order is reversed and the holiday becomes a time for the teachers to work and learn, while the students, not being able to carry on the school without the teachers, or rather not desiring to do so because it would show the board of the school that they can learn just as much (ahem!) without the teachers and cause more unemployment, which is now the bane of the day.

All the students (as well as the would-be students) think that this really is a good one on the teachers because they can stay home and sleep while the teachers must get up to attend the early meetings.

Well, let's all have a good time while we can, because no doubt the teachers will just learn more things for us to do.

"C" Club Plans
Initiation

As basketball season ends and the lettermen and letterwomen are announced, the C-Club begins to make plans for the new members soon to be initiated.

Those who are eligible to come into the club are this year's lettermen that have never lettered before. Any one once a member of this club has a lifetime membership.

The club will meet tonight to make plans for the ways of bringing the new members into the club. The new members are invited to come.

The girls that will be taken in as new members are Mavis Harden, Dell Bagley, Natalie Flesher, Sunshine Harden, Annie Ruth Schmitz, and Mary Jo Avent.

The new lettermen among the boys this year are John B. Pope, J. D. Breitling, Eston Breitling, and Mabry Vandergriff.

UNIFORM

Have you seen Mr. R. G. Stephenson's new band uniform? It is royal purple, trimmed in white, with band cap to match.

The band director wore it for the first time Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Band-Parents' Association. The band now has thirty-nine uniforms, six new ones being used Monday night for the first time.

MAKE HIGH GRADES YOUR AIM

A new six weeks is underway. Many grades, of course, were low for the period just ended. Can we not make them higher? Are we striving for the top-notch, or are we satisfied just to get over the deadline?

This six weeks should be better than the last. Why not strive harder and prepare all work as it comes along? Remember what is important and be sure of a grade when you enter the room. Let this six-weeks be one to remember for the spirit you put into your studying and remembering what you learn.

Miss Jewell Foster spent the week end in Amarillo and at her home in Dumas.

that are happening today form the history of tomorrow. Keep your eyes open!

The boys' intramural basketball got under way last Thursday, Friday and Monday. The games have been rough and roudy. Good sportsmanship and lots of laughs have featured the play throughout.

The seniors and juniors have won their way into the final game. The juniors feature a team of football players, while the seniors are all nicknamed after the Carey sharpshooters who won the regional. The game promises to be one of the roughest, fastest, loudest, scraps ever seen in the local gymnasium.

The final game will have been played by the time this goes to press, but the results are not available for this edition. The results of all games, high scoring men, all-tournament team, and the winner will be announced next week.

Girls Start

After two weeks of hard practice, the girls start their intramurals this afternoon. There will be five teams in the tournament, seniors, juniors, sophomores, freshmen, and seventh graders. There will be two games each afternoon, except on the last afternoon, when the finals will be played.

A favorite of the tournament has not yet been picked, as each team has some good material; but among the outstanding players for the tournament are to be Evelyn Cluck, senior and a two-year letter player; she did not letter this year so is eligible to come out for intramurals. Jean Slack, another senior and two year letter player, will be playing in the tournament. Some of the other girls that will be playing for the seniors will be Pauline Harris, Mary Catherine Wirt, Wilda Marsh, and Hardine Rogge.

The juniors promise to give the other teams a fight for the title of having the best class team in the high school. Mary Horn will probably be the outstanding player for the juniors. She has never lettered, but she seldom misses a goal and that is something to depend on. Some of the other junior girls coming out will be Marie O'Donald, Helen Johnson, Helen Hurst, Obera Burgan, Lillian Chambers, and Dorothy Warwick.

The sophomores have said little, but they are coming out with the intention of taking the tournament. Edrie McNeill lettered in basketball last year and played a good part of this year, but quit before she had played enough to letter. Other sophomores coming out are Hazel Sanders, Sue Terry, Jimmie Sol Slack, and Betty Jo Black.

The freshmen are small, but they intend to put up a good fight against their opponents. Fern Walters, from this year's squad, will be ringing her shots from all over the court. Mary Bourn also came out for ball this year but did not letter and will exhibit her ability to play this afternoon when the tournament starts.

Other freshmen coming out are Lola Mae Carr, Raynelle Rigbsy, Martha Frances Campbell, Kettie Johnson, Myrtle Farr, and Polly Cluck.

The seventh grade have been rather quiet, but they may slip up on the upperclassmen. The girls coming out for the team are Betty Guthrie, Elizabeth Maxwell, Dorothy Heath, Claribel Newberry, Retha Lindsey, and Doris Marie Ball.

Mr. Gerald Brown will referee the games. Miss Ruth Greenfield has charge of the tournament. The coaches are Kate Donnell, Mary Collins, Renna Beth Bellah, Billy Greenfield, and Wanda Brock.

Mr. Guy Harp took the committee which is working on the chuck wagon to the museum to see a real chuck wagon. The class is building a small ranch with all of the things connected with ranches.

Aho!

For the first time in several years much interest has been taken in track here at Canyon High School. Coach Emil Hutto states that with the material we have, we can go to State in the mile relay and the quarter. Those now out for track are Herschel Burrus, Jack Middleton, "Bot" Rusk, "Luke" Miller, "Nig" Calliham, "Bulldog" Drummond, Sherman Higdon, Eston Breitling, J. D. Breitling, and Milfred Tucker.

The spring grid practice has been delayed a week because of the boys' intramural tournament. The girls started their intramural practice Monday afternoon. There will probably be as much rough stuff and hair pulling as there will be ball playing in each classes attempt to capture the championship. (Don't let any girl find out who wrote this.)

The Carey Cardinals, winners of the region in basketball, vanquished a fighting band of Plowboys from Gopher of Northwest Texas to win the state high school basketball championship by a score of 26 to 18. Hooray for Carey!

BOOK REVIEW

"Little Journeys," in 14 volumes, by Elbert Hubbard, an American author, are among the new books in the library. Hubbard was the editor of a small magazine in which he published many of his essays. These volumes were collected by his sons in 1928. A scrapbook of his works has also been collected. He did his writing in the latter part of the nineteenth century and the early twentieth century.

"Little Journeys" is written in essay style. Each volume is devoted to a certain type of people: writers, musicians, philosophers, etc. Hubbard's own opinion of men and women are portrayed in his comments on people. These essays are not just cut and dried biographies; they are accounts of the lives of great men as seen by other people.

CAST CHOSEN FOR "HERE COMES CHARLIE"

The cast for the senior play, "Here Comes Charlie," was chosen last week by Mr. Emil Hutto, senior sponsor, and Mr. H. G. Moore, director.

Those in the play are John B. Pope, C. L. Drummond, Melvin Calliham, Sherman Higdon, Jack Inman, Marielle Oldham, Betty Ruth Solomon, Hardine Rogge, Mavis Harden, and Billy Louise Greenfield.

"A Poor Married Man"
To Be Given March 19Ninety Five—One
Buck—Sold Out!

"Two bits; fifty cents. Fifty-five, fifty-five, fifty-five—ninety-five, ninety-five, one buck. One whole dollar! Hurry up, boys; it's a pretty box! Bettr hurry—awright; going, going, gone, to—"

This is an example of some of the blabber that went on at the box supper Friday night. Luke Miller took the part of the auctioneer, and could he sell 'em! They went like hot cakes.

"Naow, here's a pretty blue box—who'll be the first to bid on it? Come on—oh, here's one; how much? Two bits? Here's two bit on this beautiful blue box, am I bid fifty cents? Anybody else? Here's a dollar; one dollar. Come on, let's get going."

"Hey, Luke, that's Dorothy's box," comes a mysterious voice from the audience.

Luke turns pale, looks at the box, and mutters, "Dollar and a quarter."

Shrieks of laughter and teasing voices come from the audience. Luke holds the box a little closer to his face, so that the footlights won't show up the pretty shade of rosy pink that he is blushing. The bids go higher and higher, until finally,

"A dollar seventy five—Sold!" And Luke crosses the stage with Dorothy's box, puts it on a chair, and blushing resumes his job as auctioneer.

Incidentally, Luke changed his mind about the heaviness of that box. When he first started to auction it, he didn't know whose it was; and he said it was pretty but not the heaviest. But you should have heard him contradict himself later and say, "it's the heaviest, anyway."

And so it was Luke who paid the most for a box, with Jimmie Pope, who paid $1.66 for Anne Maxwell's box, and Sherman Higdon, who gave $1.35 for Billy Greenfield's, as close runners-up. And the fun that came after the auctioning! Everybody was hunting a resting place and, if possible, a table to eat on. Some of the boxes contained "pop"; and when the owners took the lid off, I guess they thought they had Old Faithful on their hands. And were those entertainers keen, especially those "All Country Cowboys."

The supper, held at the high school auditorium, was sponsored by the senior class. The committee for general arrangements wishes to thank everybody who contributed in any way to the success of the supper. A total of $24.95 was cleared from the sale of the boxes. This money will help to pay for the gift the seniors leave to the school.

Stagecrafters Are Entertained

The Stagecrafters Club was entertained with a new type of program last Tuesday evening.

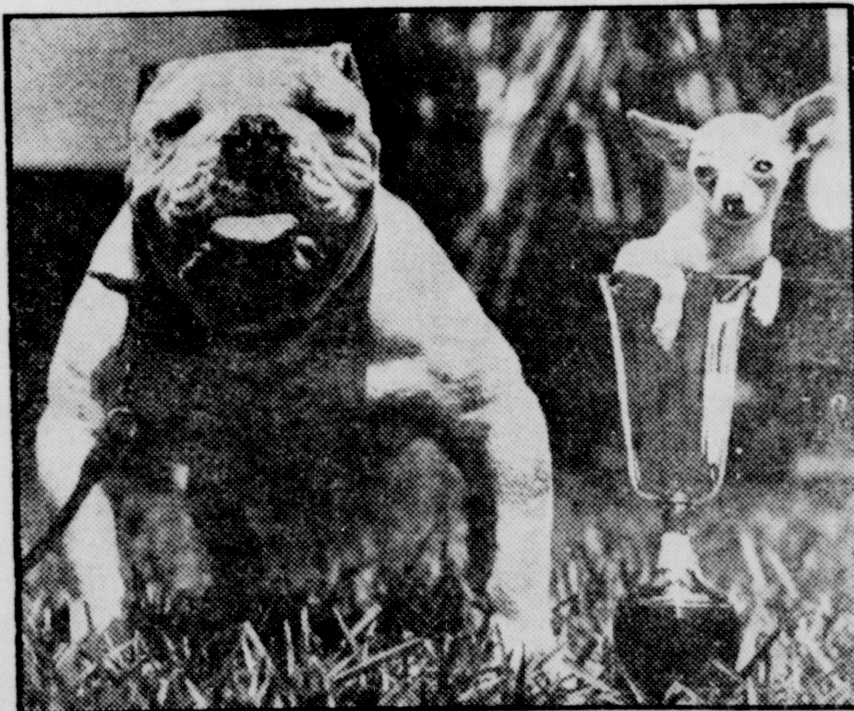

Mr. H. G. Moore, director of the club, and Mr. Gordon Beck, make-up artist, explained and demonstrated examples of make-up to the club. Mr. Beck made himself up as a blustery, rum-drinking sea captain, while Mr. Moore made Mavis Harden up as an old woman of about thirty-five. Both examples were realistic and authentic.

The artists spoke of phases of make-up work, showing how lighting, distance, size, etc., affect a make-up. The price of the material that go into a make-up kit surprised the club, as it was exceedingly high.

Miss Mattie Jordan spent the week end with her parents in Tulsa.

Jimmie Pope had dinner at the CCC camp north of Amarillo Sunday. Wonder why?

KEEP UP WITH THE WORLD!

Almost all of us have to get at least one current event a week for class work. Some of the students complain of this. Their excuses are "I forgot," or "I couldn't find a good one," etc. The plain truth of the matter is that they have the disease known as laziness; and the only persons they are fooling are themselves.

We must keep up with what is happening in the world if we are to keep step with the swift tempo of today. Did you ever stop to think of history that is going on now? We are really making history ourselves. An editorial from the Scholastic for February 20 states:

"World aviation has jumped in the last four years from infancy to maturity; railroads have electrified their trains, use Diesel power, streamlined and air-conditioned them. Radio has come of age; commercial television is not far off. Telephones have improved."

So, you see, it is important that we read the papers from day to day to keep up with events. Teachers should be commended rather than berated for their efforts to make us better citizens by insisting that we read something besides the comic strips. These things makes cold motors purr-r-r

Listen in... PHILLIPS POLY FOLLIES
Columbia Network
Every Tuesday Evening

HOW can you tell what power, pep and speed, your motor will actually develop, until you have given it a real chance to "do its stuff" by filling up with high test gasoline?

So try Phillips 66 Poly Gas. It costs no more than ordinary low test motor fuels. Yet scientific laboratory tests made day in and day out, all winter long, have proved that the effective high test of Phillips 66 is unsurpassed by any other gasoline—even those selling at a higher price.

You will notice that your motor starts much faster... warms up quicker... that it literally purrs along at any speed from a snail's pace in traffic to a streamlined sprint on the out-of-town concrete.

You will also feel the added power which comes from the extra energy units supplied by the patented POLY-merization process.

You get these two-fold economies of extra high test and extra power... without extra price... because of Phillips resources as world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline... because of Phillips initiative as an Independent Organization.

Make it a point to get your next tankful of gas at the Orange and Black 66 Shield. You'll enjoy that difference in performance and saving in money.

Since the advent of night tennis in Miami, Fla., a man can tell his wife that he was detained at night court without causing too much of a furore.

English spoken by the average person today is a 100 per cent improvement over that of his grandparents. It's at least more colorful when directed at reckless drivers.

do these telephone mishaps ever happen to you?

Your telephone bell rings... you pick up the receiver, and...there is no one on the line. Here are some ways to avoid this... for yourself and others:

1. Someone may have asked for your number by mistake, discovered the error, and hung up.

REMEDY: If you are not sure of a number, look in the directory before making a call.

2. Someone called you, but got impatient and didn't wait a reasonable time for you to answer.

REMEDY: When you make a call, wait about a minute (10 rings) for a reply before you hang up.

3. You may not have answered your telephone promptly, by the time you answered, the person calling had hung up.

REMEDY: Always try to answer your telephone promptly.

Simple remedies, these... but important. They help us give you better telephone service.

Duty of Citizens to Government Is Discussed at Rotary

Clyde Warwick discussed the duty of a citizen to his government at the luncheon of the Rotary Club Tuesday. The program was in charge of the Community Service Committee. Wes Kleinschmidt, chairman.

The growth of government in recent years was outlined by the speaker owing to the complex problems which had been introduced by improvements, discoveries and inventions.

The duty of the citizen is to learn the functions of government, and by all means the limitations of government. The need of trained men and women for public office has been greatly felt in this nation. When unqualified candidates are elected to public office the fault is that of the voters who have not analyzed the qualifications of those in the political races. The New Deal has been greatly handicapped because of the lack of trained men and women to carry out the projects of the President.

Visitors present were: W. S. Norman of Amarillo; J. W. Shook, T. M. Moore and Lonnie Byars of Canyon.

The resignation of Bill Castleberry from the club was announced, as he has been transferred to Sinton.

considerable dust this spring, there have been fewer destructive winds in this section than have hit this section the past two springs. The bad dust storms so far have brought the dust from the outside, rather than blowing the soil of the Panhandle.

Citizens are hoping that the moisture of this week will get the wheat started sufficiently that the land will be held from blowing.

A large acreage of land has been listed with the money available under the soil erosion act, and more land will be contoured for the purpose of saving the land from erosion as the month advances.

The county board will meet on call within the next 30 days for the election of a county chairman and other officers.

County Agent W. H. Upchurch met with all nine communities for the purpose of leading the discussion of the current farm program. There was a very good attendance in all communities. 475 farmers attended out of a total of about 600 farmers who live on farms in the county.

Extra Study Completed Record Time by Capt. H. O. Price

Captain Hubert O. Price, U. S. Infantry Reserve, recently completed 240 hours of correspondence work from the Command and General Staff School of Leavenworth, Kansas. Captain Price has completed this work since last October despite the fact that more than two years are usually required for a similar amount of work.

Though Price served with the Navy during the World War, he entered the National Guards in 1922, and was commissioned second lieutenant in 1926. He later became captain of Company F, local unit of the Texas National Guard. In 1930 he transferred to the Reserve Corps.

be secured. $630 premium was paid for the bonds. About $500 will remain in the sinking fund after the transfers are made, and the court house paid out.

Randall county is in very strong financial condition, with little debt aside from the outstanding highway paying bonds. The paving bonds amount to $265,000, but practically 90% of this debt will finally be paid by the state. The exact amount cannot be ascertained since 1 per cent of the gasoline tax is appropriated every two years to take up these bonds, and the amount of this gasoline tax cannot be definitely determined.

The Commissioners' Court has been figuring for more than two months on making this deal and had several bids Monday on the bonds which were offered for sale.
